

Gentleman at the FCC:

I am a recent subscriber to satellite radio. I am so happy with it and I can actually get to listen to music instead of continual commercials. That is what most of us thought radio was about...not commercialism.

Please reject NAB petition 04-160. The satellite radio producers offer a valuable and needed commodity to the public. Since we do pay a fee these folks should be allowed to do what is needed to please their consumers and clients. It should not be up to regular radio folks to decide what satellite radio people are allowed or not allowed to do on their stations. News, weather and traffic are part of each person's life and it is nice to know that I can drive across the country and tune into a satellite station that can provide me with information on a city I might not be familiar with.

Again, please reject this petition and let the satellite radio folks go on providing us with useful information.

Sincerely, Susan Coker
